

PANEL OF FORTY PICKED--TESTIMONY WEDNESDAY?

HOW CROSS WORKS

METHOD USED IN THE CHEMICAL ANALYSIS OF CLOTHES.

ADDS RABBIT BLOOD

Kansas City Analyst to Give Expert Testimony as to Alleged Find of the State in the Rasco Case.

One of the exhibits in the trial of Hez Rasco will be a pair of blood-spattered trousers. The state will assert that these trousers are spattered with human blood and to prove it, an analysis of the blood was made in Kansas City. Three pairs of blood-spattered trousers belonging to Rasco were found. He asserted that the blood came from hogs he had slaughtered or rabbits he had dressed. To find which, if any, pair was spattered with human blood an analysis of the blood on all three was made. Dr. Walter M. Cross, city chemist of Kansas City, who will come to Maryville Tuesday evening or Wednesday, described Monday morning the method used.

"In such a case as this the chemist usually makes use of three rabbits," Dr. Cross said. "Into one rabbit he injects a little human blood and into another a drop of pig's blood. This is done several days in succession. The blood of the remaining rabbit, which was not treated, is then mixed with the blood of the rabbit into which the pig's blood was injected. It will produce a reaction that will be distinctly characteristic of a pig's blood only."

"The mixing of the blood of the untreated rabbit with the blood of the rabbit that was injected with human blood will produce a reaction that in appearance and other characteristics is peculiar to human blood only. Particles of dried blood on the garments are mixed with the blood of the rabbit that was injected with pig's blood. If the reaction is characteristic of pig's blood it will be proof that it was pig's blood on the garments, otherwise there will be no such reaction."

"Then the particles of dried blood on the garments are mixed with the blood of the rabbit that was injected with human blood. If the reaction produced is characteristic of human blood only then obviously the dried substance on the garment is human blood."

NEWSPAPER MEN HERE FOR THE TRIAL

B. C. Biggerstaff of the St. Joseph Gazette and Charles Adams of the St. Joseph News-Press are in Maryville this week to report the Rasco trial for their papers. Mr. Biggerstaff is well known here, having been formerly city editor of the Maryville Daily Tribune.

Fallis Wood, a former Maryville young man, now a wholesale druggist of Omaha, was in Maryville on business Tuesday.

A marriage license was issued Monday afternoon to George W. Cookman and Miss Lillie Maxwell of Burlington Junction.

REMAINS OF BRAUMULLER CREMATED--ASHES SCATTERED.

S. H. KEMP WAS PRESENT

Executor of Will, With a Brother and Sister and Other Relatives of Deceased Witnessed Final Act.

Monday's issue of the St. Louis Republic contained a photograph of S. H. Kemp of this city and one of Joel Braumuller, who died at St. Francis hospital last week. The article follows:

In compliance with the dying wishes of Joel Braumuller, the wealthy bachelor who died last week at his farm near Maryville, Mo., his ashes were consigned to the winds from the middle of the Eads bridge late yesterday afternoon. He was 59 years old.

A brother and sister and the executor of the strange will, which prescribed disposal of the ashes, were witnesses to the emptying of the urn. Braumuller came from Delaware, O., where most of his family still reside. When only 8 years old he started westward with a companion about his own age, the boys walking much of the way.

After living at several places in Illinois, on a farm near Omaha, Neb., and later in Shelbyville, Ill., five years ago he bought a fine farm near Maryville and lived there alone since.

He was considered an eccentric man by his neighbors and was a deep student of ancient history. His death was due to pneumonia.

The peculiar disposal of Mr. Braumuller's remains was in obedience to plans made by him seven years ago.

Visited Crematory.

While in St. Louis to view the Louisiana Purchase exposition he paid a visit to the Missouri crematory, near the insane asylum, and when he returned home he declared he would direct that his body be cremated when he died.

Accordingly, when he drew up his will last week, after having sold his farm for $24,000, one paragraph stipulated what should be done with his body. It said:

"I direct that after my death my body be shipped to St. Louis, Mo., and there cremated and my ashes strewn to the winds from the south side of the Eads bridge over the river."

S. H. Kemp, cashier of the Maryville National bank, and the dead man's most intimate friend, was named as executor of the will, which distributes over $30,000.

The body, accompanied by Mr. Kemp, arrived in St. Louis Sunday morning, and was immediately taken to the undertaking establishment of the C. R. Lupton company, No. 4449 Olive street. From there it went to the crematory.

Relatives, who met the body and the executor in St. Louis, were a brother, Joseph Braumuller, No. 49 Cheshire street, Delaware, O.; a sister, Mrs. F. Wohlheuter, No. 236 Lake street, Delaware; a niece, Mrs. John Evans, and a nephew by marriage, W. F. Goodman, both of Delaware.

Urn Wrapped in Newspaper.

At 4:30 o'clock the funeral party called at the crematory for the ashes, and then drove to the Eads bridge. Leaving their carriages, they walked to the center span, the undertaker carrying the urn, which was wrapped in a newspaper.

Halting at the south side of the bridge, the wrapping was removed from the urn, which was of the ordinary earthenware type.

The wind, whirling about the piers and buttresses of the great bridge, caught up the ashes and flung them in every direction. When the urn was empty, it, too, was dropped down into the river.

The relatives departed last night for their homes, while Mr. Kemp returned to Maryville.

The surviving brother, Joseph Braumuller, is the last of six brothers, all of whom, except Joel, who was the youngest, served in the Union armies during the civil war. Two were killed and one died from pneumonia. There were five sisters in the family.

The pouring of human ashes from the Eads bridge Sunday was the second time it has happened within a few weeks.

DIVORCE SUIT FILED FOR THE JUNE TERM

A divorce suit was filed in the circuit clerk's office Tuesday by Attorney W. E. Wiles for Mary Viola Paxton against Charles Paxton. The petition states that they were married on February 4, 1900, and lived together until December 22, 1910, and during part of that time he frequently abused and cursed the plaintiff. Two children were born, one aged 10 and the other 3. The petition claims that the defendant is possessed of forty acres of land and $850, which was acquired by joint labor and saving of the plaintiff and defendant. The plaintiff asks for a decree of divorce and care and custody of the two children. The suit was filed for the February term but will not come up until the June term, on account of time being up for the February term.

ATTENDED FUNERAL OF BROTHER-IN-LAW

Rev. and Mrs. Alva C. Brown and little son, Vincent, and Mrs. Brown's brother, Mrs. Nelson, of Bolckow spent Tuesday afternoon in Maryville, on their way home from Elmo, where on Monday they attended the funeral services of the late George Nelson, who was the brother-in-law of Mrs. Nelson. The husband of Mrs. Nelson and the late Mr. Nelson were brothers of Rev. William Nelson, who for many years was an able minister of the M. E. church in this section of Missouri and widely known. George Nelson was 58 years old at the time of his death. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Sallie Babcock of Little Eagle, S. D., and Mrs. Amanda Bowman of Elmo.

THE CALLAHAN WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

The will of John M. Callahan, who died January 26, 1910, was filed in probate court Tuesday morning. The estate contains beside personal property about 800 acres of land. The will was written January 23, three days before Mr. Callahan died, and was witnessed by P. J. O'Donnell and Mary J. Lowe. By the terms of the will two children of Mary Callahan O'Connor, Michael Henry O'Connor and Ellen O'Connor, are given $10 each. The remainder of the estate, both real and personal, is given to M. M. Callahan, his brother. M. M. Callahan was named as executor of the estate by the will.

JUDGE ELLISON INSTRUCTS ATTORNEYS TO MAKE CHALLENGES. FORTY VENIREMEN REPORTED TUESDAY

EXHAUSTED PANEL

SHERIFF TILSON FORCED TO SEND FOR MORE MEN IN NIGHT.

GETS PICKERING MEN

Not a Single One of Panel of Forty is From Maryville, and But Two or Three From Polk Township.

As predicted by the Daily Democrat-Forum, the mills of justice ran dry Tuesday morning. Of the 95 veniremen examined only 26 qualified for the primary panel of 40. When court adjourned at 6 o'clock Monday evening Judge Ellison instructed Sheriff Tilson to have 50 additional veniremen on hand as early as possible Tuesday and to get at least fifteen by 9 o'clock if it was at all possible. Five men of the original 100 had not been examined when court closed Monday night. The twenty-six who qualified for the primary panel were put in the dock south of the bar enclosure and were turned over to Sheriff Tilson at the adjournment of court for the day.

The hypothetical questions propounded by the lawyers proved to be very puzzling to the men who are being examined as prospective jurors. Several men, while being questioned late Monday afternoon asked the lawyers to divide the questions into sections and let them answer on the installment plan.

That several jurors purposely became entangled themselves in the intricacies of the law yesterday was readily apparent. Judge Ellison took a hand in the questioning yesterday afternoon, several times out of sympathy for the farmers who were seeking to extricate themselves from the entanglements of the hypothetical questions.

"Having formed an opinion of the guilt or innocence of the defendant would it be necessary for the defense to introduce testimony to remove that opinion?" proved a puzzle for many.

Several of the veniremen took it to mean that the defendant is guilty until he proves himself innocent. Judge Ellison saw this pitfall and at once after the opening of the afternoon session proceed to address all the veniremen and to tell them that it was up to the state to prove Rasco guilty and that the law presumed him innocent until the state proved him guilty.

J. A. Spears of Burlington Junction was so honestly confused by the long hypothetical questions asked by Ellis Cook, attorney for the defense that he appealed to Judge Ellison, saying:

"Judge, I am just a farmer and these long questions confuse me. Won't you make them more simple?"

Cook had Spears saying that he would convict Rasco without hearing another word of evidence and Spears realized that he was not saying what he himself meant. It took Judge Ellison at least fifteen minutes to clear things up and get Spears out of his confusion. Everyone sympathized with the honest farmer.

L. R. McMillen of near Elmo, 28 year old, married and the father of two children, fell into the same trap as did Spears. McMillen either could not or would not talk above a murmur. Judge Ellison went to his rescue and McMillen became stubborn. People in the court room began to snicker at his obduracy. Judge Ellison evidently thinking that the man was too dull to comprehend what he was questioning him on, finally asked him where he was reared. McMillen said that Iowa was his native heath. Judge Ellison then asked him if he took a Nodaway county or a St. Joseph daily paper and McMillen said that he did not, but that he took a county paper printed in the town in Iowa where he was reared. Finally Judge Ellison lost his patience with the man and summarily excused him. Attorney Cook had a good laugh at him.

DEFENSE AGAIN DEMANDS THAT IT BE ALLOWED TO SEE RASCO'S CLOTHING AND THE JOE CAYTON GUN. STATE PROMISES THAT IT WILL TURN THEM OVER TO DEFENSE TONIGHT.

LITTLE TO MARK PROGRESS OF TRIAL TODAY EXCEPT ROUTINE--STATE TO TRY AND PROVE CASE BY CHEMIST--DEFENSE ASKS FULL TIME LIMIT IN MAKING CHALLENGES FROM PRIMARY PANEL.

Taking testimony in the case of the state of Missouri against Hez Rasco, charged with the murder of the Hubbell family, near Gullford, on the evening of November 20, 1910, will probably start Wednesday afternoon.

The primary panel of forty men was secured by 11:30 o'clock Tuesday, and Judge Ellison excused the jurors until 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon under strict caution. No court will be held until that time.

But few incidents of interest marked the course of the empanelling of the jury during Tuesday forenoon. Attorneys for the state and the defense worked with great rapidity, and soon went through with the thirty-five men summoned from the vicinity of Pickering and Hopkins during Monday night.

As on Monday, Prosecuting Attorney Wright did the questioning for the state. Attorneys E. E. Williams and W. H. Crawford for the defense conducted the examinations for the defense with great expedition.

At the close of the task of empanelling the jury of forty the attorneys for the defense made a second demand on the state for the production of the Joe Cayton gun and the clothes taken from Hez Rasco's room on the morning of his arrest. Attorneys for the state promised that they would be in Maryville by night and ready for examination by attorneys for the defense by Wednesday morning or Tuesday night if the counsel for the defense so desired.

The only other clash between the attorneys came when Judge Ellison told the attorneys for the defense that they must be ready to make their challenges at the time the jury comes in on Wednesday. Attorneys Cook and Williams demurred, saying that they expected to have twenty-four hours from the time the state makes its eight challenges. Judge Ellison said that the state would have until 6 o'clock a. m. Wednesday in which to finish their eight challenges, and advised the defense to prepare a list of first, second and third challenges, so that they might at once make their report to the court on the twenty men to be challenged by the defense. The attorneys for the defense protested, but Judge Ellison said that this course had been followed for years so as to secure dispatch in trying murder cases.

Court opened promptly at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. The attendance was not so large as on Monday. Rasco came direct from the jail to the court room. He did not shake hands with his father, simply nodding and taking a seat by the side of his father.

Sheriff Tilson announced that he had secured an additional venire of thirty-five men, which gave the court forty men to begin with.

Of the first levy called to the jury box two of seven men called said they had conscientious scruples and were excused.

The first veniremen called Tuesday morning was A. J. Howard, a Pickering farmer, 38 years old, married and the father of three children. He proved acceptable to the state. Howard told W. H. Crawford that he had an opinion that would take evidence to change. Judge Ellison questioned him.

When Judge Ellison told the de-

War en Hull, an Elmo farmer with a wife and two children, a Methodist, satisfied the state's questioning. Hull said that he could render an impartial verdict. Hull proved satisfactory to the defense.

Sanford Jones, a Pickering farmer with a wife and two daughters, 17 and 10 years old, himself 48 years old, a reader of The Democrat-Forum was satisfactory to the state. Attorney Crawford questioned Jones, as did Judge Ellison, who disentangled the juror from his confusion.

J. N. Otis, a Hopkins farmer with a wife, boy and girl, 43 years old, a Baptist, was satisfactory to the state. Otis proved equally satisfactory to the defense.

Ross Joy, an Elmo store clerk, 27 years old, married, a member of the M. E. church, South, told Prosecuting Attorney Wright that circumstantial evidence would have to be mighty strong to cause him to inflict the death penalty. He reads the Democrat-Forum. Joy was satisfactory to the defense.

Henry McComb, a Wilcox farmer with a wife and four children, a non-church member, a reader of The Democrat-Forum, was acceptable to the state. He didn't consider newspaper articles entirely reliable. He was accepted by the defense.

E. K. Bailey of Elmo, a farmer, 47 years old, with a family of three children, a member of no church, a reader of The Democrat-Forum, was acceptable to the state and also to the defense.

W. E. Hinton, a Pickering farmer, 37 years old, married, a member of the Christian church, satisfied the state, likewise the defense.

B. C. Clayton, 49 years old, a Pickering farmer having a wife and five children, was acceptable to the state and the defense, making the thirty-fifth man on the panel of forty.

Of the second levy of seventeen men called ten disqualified because of conscientious scruples. Six additional veniremen were called and the task of securing the last five men of the primary panel of forty was started. Of the last six men called three disqualified on the question of conscientious scruples. Attorney E. E. Williams examined for the defense.

An article appeared in the Kansas City Post last Sunday under a Maryville date line that rehearses the story that was taken from the St. Joseph Gazette a couple of weeks ago concerning the Hubbell murder and the theory that it was done by the father of the family himself. It also rehearsed that threadbare story about the danger of mob violence in Maryville and the extraordinary precautions taken to prevent it. When the former story appeared in the Gazette, our esteemed contemporary, the Tribune, went into sudden hysterics and declared it was so absurd that it should not have been printed in Maryville. Now, we want to make one suggestion. Not a line of correspondence to city newspapers goes out from anyone connected with the Democrat-Forum office. If there was, we would be unable to understand why matters should be sent to other papers that is not worthy of publication at home.

the court's expense on this experience.

It remained for George N. Nelson, a Clearmont farmer, 34 years old, married and with four children, to inject the Baumli murder into the present trial of Rasco. Nelson said during his examination, by Ellis Cook of the defense, that the reputation that Rasco bore would prejudice him against rendering an impartial verdict. Judge Ellison took the bull by the horns and told the attorneys that they must amend their hypothetical questions so as to include in them a statement that Rasco's reputation must not be considered in the present trial except in relation to any testimony that he himself might give.

Unless Rasco is placed on the witness stand it will be impossible for the state to question any witnesses as to the Baumli case, and only the introduction of the circuit court records giving the facts regarding Rasco's former conviction can be introduced.

M. V. Moore, who was examined at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was excused because he said that he had an opinion that would preclude his giving Rasco a fair trial. Moore is 35 years old.

William Woodburn of Parnell, 37 years old, a farmer and married, stated that he had prejudices, but they were not such as to prevent him giving an impartial hearing to the case.

W. A. Johnson of Elmo, a farmer, 34 years old, married and the father of five, stated that he was not certain that he was qualified to try the case and was so uncertain about everything that Judge Ellison finally excused him. Johnson said later in the lobby of the court house that he did not have time to serve on the jury.

M. R. Hays, a Skidmore farmer, a reader of the Democrat-Forum, said that he was a married man and had five children, but that he could try the case impartially if given a chance.

Sumner Carver, 48 years old, the father of seven children, a Methodist, and a farmer, was certain that he could give the defendant a fair trial and could inflict the death punishment if the prisoner was proven guilty. He reads The Democrat-Forum.

Millard Fox, a Skidmore farmer with a wife and three children, a Mason, proved to be acceptable to both sides.

B. E. Woods, a Skidmore paper hanger and painter, married, 55 years old, was unprejudiced.

Floyd West, a bachelor living 12 miles north of Maryville, said that he was unbiased.

Levi Benton, 60 years old, a farmer, living north of Maryville, married, was accepted by both sides.

S. E. Taylor, a bachelor farmer of Quitman, said that he would not impose capital punishment under any circumstances and was excused.

A. R. Robinson, a Maryville farmer, 48 years old, married, parent of a son, proved to be a satisfactory juror-to-be.

J. H. Brown, a Skidmore farmer, 35 years old, married and the father of a pair of bright children, was accepted.

William Sanders, a Skidmore farmer, 54 years old, the father of five young ladies, was excused because of his antipathy to inflicting the death penalty in any event.

S. G. Massie of Union township, 49 years old, with a wife and four children, a member of the Christian church, was retained.

William King, Hopkins township, a farmer, 47 years old, married and the father of three promising children, a member of the Church of Christ and an Odd Fellow, was retained.

Attorney Ellis Cook, for the defendant, tried to make William Buckner, an Elmo merchant, admit that he wanted to get on the jury. Cook was called down by the court for interrogating Buckner as to his life and domestic relations, the court holding that the attorney had known the venireman all his life. Buckner said that he was a member of the Methodist church.

P. W. Ocher, a Skidmore farmer, 48 years old, married and a member of the Christian church, was accepted by both the state and the defense.

C. R. Lamar of near Elmo, a farmer with three daughters and one son, and a Mason, was retained by both sides.

Out of one levy of 18 veniremen, 14 disqualified by saying that they had conscientious scruples regarding service on a case where the verdict might be death.

One venireman on the last levy of five pleaded the age limit and was excused.

Free Sample For Baby's Ills

Something can and must be done for the puny, crying baby, for the child that refuses to eat and is restless in its sleep. And since the basis of all health is the proper working of the digestive organs, look first to the condition of the stomach and bowels.

A child should have two full and free movements of the bowels a day. This emptying of the bowels is very important, as with it comes a clear head, a lightness of step, good appetite and sound sleep. But it is equally important to know what to give the child in the emergency of constipation and indigestion. Cathartics are too strong and sound and other purgatives are not only too strong, but the child refuses them because of their bad taste. Have you ever tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin? It is a liquid tonic that families have been using for a quarter of a century. It is mild, pleasant-tasting and promptly effective. It is good for you as well as the child, but there is nothing better to be found for children. They like its taste—you will not have to force them to take it.

First of all, if you have not yet used it, Dr. Caldwell would like to send you a sample bottle free of charge. In this way you can try it before buying. Later, when convinced of its merits, you can get it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as thousands of other families are doing. The family of Mr. D. W. Spangler of Strattonville, Pa., as well as that of Mr. A. P. Johnson of Walnut Grove, Tenn., started with it in that way and now write that it is their family necessity next to food itself. If you are unfortunate enough to have a sickly child, one given to constipation and indigestion, you should send for a free sample of this remedy. Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. E. Caldwell, 1109 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

four miles north of Maryville, was the first man of the second levy to be examined. Stafford is married and has three children, is 39 years old and is a Methodist. The state accepted him.

H. W. Farrar, a farmer living near Maryville, 40 years old, with a wife, was excused on account of his prejudices.

J. R. Evans, 33 years old, living southwest of Maryville, having a wife and two children, a Baptist and a reader of The Democrat-Forum, was accepted by the state and satisfied the attorneys for the defense, saying that he could give Rasco as fair a trial as any other man similarly charged.

A. E. Cockayne, a Catholic farmer, living four miles northwest of Maryville, 38 years old, having a wife and three step-children and a member of the Knights of Columbus, was accepted by the state. Cockayne is a reader of The Democrat-Forum. He responded readily to Attorney Williams' questions.

W. E. Johnson, a farmer boy 21 years old, single, living near Quitman, was excused on account of his prejudices.

D. R. Palmer, a Wilcox farmer, 48 years old, a member of the Christian church, a Mason and an Odd Fellow, having a wife and three children, was satisfactory to the state. Mr. Palmer is also a Democrat-Forum reader. Attorney Williams was satisfied with the juror.

N. B. Shrewsbury, a farmer living seven miles west of Maryville, a Methodist, married and having a son and daughter, and a reader of The Democrat-Forum, proved satisfactory to the state. Attorney Williams made Shrewsbury admit that he "allowed he was guilty after reading the newspapers." Judge Ellison untangled the venireman from the hypothetical tangle, but finally excused Shrewsbury.

Henry Moore, residing six miles west of Maryville, married and having two sons and two daughters, wanted to be excused on the grounds of having a poor memory.

"That would let us all out," said Judge Ellison.

Moore is a member of the Christian church, a reader of The Democrat-Forum, and satisfied Prosecuting Attorney Wright. Judge Ellison had to excuse Mr. Moore on account of fixed opinion.

Paul Rannels of Pickering, 52 years old, having a wife and two children, a reader of The Democrat-Forum and an Odd Fellow, was acceptable to the state and Attorney Williams.

J. D. Hendrich, a farmer, residing four miles northeast of Maryville, married and having a wife and boy and girl, a Methodist and 42 years old, is a reader of The Democrat-Forum, and passed the series of questions propounded by the state and was accepted.

Following the empanelling of the primary panel of forty, Judge Ellison ordered the panel assembled in the jury box and the north tier of seats. A roll call was then had to check the panel list and to ascertain that the names and initials of all had been listed correctly. Forty-one jurors having been empaneled, Judge Ellison informed the defense that it could exercise its exception to one juror, and A. J. Howard was excused, exception having been taken by the defense to his empanelling.

Three jurors arose to ask final excuse. Two members had wives sick with the grip.

J. A. Spears pleaded a sore foot, but Judge Ellison refused to allow him to be excused, saying that he would be well cared for. Also admitted that he had discussed the case with one of the original 100 veniremen.

D. R. Palmer and A. R. Robinson claimed to have sick wives, but they were not excused by the court.

Judge Ellison gave the jurors a recess until 1:30 o'clock Wednesday, and cautioned the jurors to silence, and ordered that they read nothing about the case and to keep aloof from all contamination.

One Thousand Dollars a Year is Enough.

An income of $1,000 a year is enough to support a man and his wife, and enable them to save $500, according to Harlow N. Higginbotham of Chicago, who made a fortune as a partner of Marshall Field. This is the way he figures it: "It costs a person for food just about 24 cents a day," he said, "and I can prove it costs no more to live today than it did three or four years ago. Now, 365 days at the figure mentioned gives us $87.60 for the cost of food for one person for a year, provided one does not waste it, or throw it away. A man and his wife do not need a servant, and an apartment quite large enough for two people and with a room to spare, will cost say $24 a month. Then add light and gas and I believe two people could live economically and save $500 a year. Here is what one woman did on $6 a week: After a series of years that woman had in the bank the sum of $2,715.81, and moreover had helped her brother to the extent of $300. Thus on an income of $312 a year she had saved $3,272.41, had maintained herself and been to the hospital once and paid a doctor's bill. I started to work for Marshall Field after the war for $1,200, which the next year was raised to $2,000, the next to $4,000, and it went up in time until I was earning $200,000 a year. I never asked for an increase, and the man who is always begging for more money is generally the man who has no right to it." Mr. Higginbotham never made much of a record as a spender himself.

BAD DREAMS.

Nightmare, Restlessness and Night-sweats All Caused by Indigestion.

Half of the nervousness in the world, all of the disturbing dreams and nightmares can be ended in a few weeks by a simple, inexpensive treatment guaranteed by the Orear-Henry Drug Co.

Upset stomach is the cause of nervousness and bad dreams. Your food is lying in your stomach undigested and fermenting; it is forming poisonous gases which irritate the pneumogastric nerve that leads direct from the brain, and ends in a network of tiny branches running through the stomach.

It is also the irritation of this great pneumogastric nerve that causes headaches. Many times people have severe headaches and know they are caused by the stomach, but do not know how.

If you are nervous, have dreams or nightmare, and do not sleep sound at night, get a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and take one or two after or with meals. Mi-o-na stomach tablets relieve distressed stomach in 5 minutes. Sold by the Orear-Henry Drug Co. and druggists everywhere, who guarantee Mi-o-na to cure indigestion or money back.

Paul Sawyers of St. Joseph, son of Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Sawyers, spent Sunday in Maryville at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Sawyers.

SUNNY MONDAY

All other laundry soaps contain from 20 to 40% rosin. Rosin is unkind to clothes. There is no rosin in Sunny Monday Soap—that's why it's white. It will wash woollens and flannels without shrinking, and colored goods without fading. It works in any kind of water—hot, cold, hard or soft—and contains a marvelous dirt-starter, which saves fully half the time consumed by rubbing. The use of Sunny Monday means economy.

THREE HUNDRED LIVES ARE LOST

Volcano Near Manila Suddenly Becomes Active.

FIVE VILLAGES ARE DESTROYED

Eruption of Mount Taal, Which Consists Largely of Showers of Hot Mud, Is Accompanied by a Huge Tidal Wave—Many Natives Drowned.

Manila, Jan. 31.—An American school teacher, who has traversed the west shore of Lake Taal, telegraphs that five small villages were destroyed by the tidal wave that accompanied the volcanic outbreak of Mount Taal and that not less than 300 persons have been killed in that vicinity. Many were burned in fires started by molten masses.

A constabulary relief detachment reports twelve persons were drowned and one killed by lightning at Talisay and that three persons were drowned at Lemery. The government is hurrying a relief train to the scene.

All of the towns within a radius of twenty miles were more or less damaged by the shower of mud and stones. The eruptions continue. The sky was cloudless and there was no wind, but the muddy rain fell steadily. The natives have abandoned their village homes in the vicinity of Lake Taal and sought refuge in the hills.

Mount Taal rises in the center of Lake Taal, a body of water not more than fifteen miles in circumference. It is thirty-four miles from this city, from which dense clouds of smoke rising from the crater are plainly visible.

The observatory authorities believe that Manila is in no danger, but there is some alarm among the natives, who recall the destruction caused by Mount Mayon, the other volcano of Luzon, in 1897. So far, however, Mayon has shown no threatening disturbance.

Investigators of the bureau of science report that with the first violent eruption of Taal, the volcanic island appeared to sink five feet and the waters of the lake rising, swept the shores a mile inland, carrying away the bamboo shacks and catching a score of natives. Others living in the vicinity had taken warning and fled at the first rumblings of the volcano. The towns of Taal, Lemery and Talisay seem to have suffered most.

DANVILLE VOTE PROBE ENDS

Grand Jury Drops Investigation of Vote Buying Without Indictments.

Danville, Ill., Jan. 31.—The "now or never" day in the Vermilion county grand jury investigation of vote traffic has gone by and the answer of the politicians to the investigators was "never," according to the admissions of the grand jurors themselves. They will abandon the investigation. Most of the ward workers subpoenaed, it was learned by the investigators, were prepared to explain their acceptance of money at the polls as exposed by previous witnesses. They were prepared to say, to a man, they got the money as paid workers, not for their own votes, following closely to the route blazed by the court's public explanation. It is the general belief the grand jury will pursue the plan of Judge Kimbrough of clearing up its docket and adjourning Friday until the day before the spring elections. Its sitting then is expected by the judge to frighten off those who plan to continue the corruption of voters.

REBELS ABANDON MEXICALI

Mexican Officials Again Take Possession of Border Town.

Mexicali, Mex., Jan. 31.—The insurgents left Mexicali and are now camped on the canal bank, near Packard station, on the Inter-California railroad. The Mexican officials have resumed possession of the government offices and duties are being collected at the customs house as usual. The insurgents took out of Mexicali about $2,000.

The insurgents offered to release Sub-Prefecto Terrazas on payment of $500 gold. Friends advanced $500 and the sub-prefecto was released, with the warning that he must resign his official office and not set foot in Mexicali again on penalty of instant death.

KANSAS CITY MAN WOUNDED

The wounded man, who is fifty-three years old, was taken to a hospital. A family feud is supposed to have caused the shooting. Millman named his brother-in-law, Charles Hayden, as his assailant.

Wreck on the Frisco Line.

Dixon, Mo., Jan. 31.—Twelve persons were injured when eastbound passenger train No. 10 on the St. Louis and San Francisco left the track near here, while running thirty miles an hour. B. Call of Newburg, Mo., fireman, suffered a broken arm. The injuries to others were slight.

The Lure of a Girl.

In the next big city of California—it being always understood that Los Angeles is the first city of the state in importance—there is a shrewd and naturally ingenious man engaged in the business of conducting sightseeing trips by means of carry-all autos. He is coining money, and this is the way he does it, says the Los Angeles Times.

While the auto is waiting for a load of passengers alongside the curb of the street, an exceedingly pretty girl is hired to sit on the front seat as though she were a sightseer impatiently waiting for the trip to begin.

A man comes along with no intention whatever of participating in the ride. He probably has seen the town, anyway. But the pretty girl with her smile of glory catches his eye. He instantly discovers that he has nothing else to do, and he boards the caravan, first eagerly separating himself from the price. The girl holds on to the end seat and smiles and smiles. In three flaps of a lamb's tail all the seats are filled. Then the pretty girl descends from her perch, waves the passengers bon voyage and takes her place in the next auto.

Can you beat it? You certainly cannot. The lure of all lures is a pretty girl.

HOUSE VOTES FOR TARIFF BOARD

Bill Providing for Permanent Body is Passed.

CLARK SPEAKS FOR MEASURE.

Democratic Leader Says He Wants Extra Session of Congress—Also Asserts That He Desires Reciprocity With Sister Republics.

Washington, Jan. 31.—After considering the matter for more than seven hours under a general rule the house, by a vote of 185 to 93, passed the bill providing for a permanent tariff board of five members.

This is the first of the legislation recommended by President Taft to be introduced in the house this session. The Democrats, split on the passage of the bill and, although Champ Clark, the minority leader, voted for the measure, ninety of his followers were recorded against it. The others who voted in the negative were scattering Republicans. The bill was put through in exactly the same shape it came from the committee.

Clark Talks on Bill.

After Payne had earnestly urged the passage of the bill, Clark took the floor. He said, in part:

"On the motion of Democrats in the committee it was fixed that the house shall be competent or able to direct the subjects that this board shall investigate. That makes an entirely different situation. I voted for that bill in the committee, I am going to vote for it here.

"Of course there is no use to conceal what the condition is. We have got the house after March 4 and we propose to carry out in good faith the promise to revise the tariff and we are going to do it just as soon as we can.

"Personally I would like very well to see an extra session of congress, but there is only one man on the face of the earth who can call an extra session of congress and that is the president. If the evening papers are to be believed he is going to call an extra session unless he gets his reciprocity scheme through this congress.

"He has adopted one more democratic principle. Give him time enough and he will adopt them all. While he is urging a reciprocity treaty with Canada, and I am heartily in favor of that, I wish he would extend its operations so as to take in our sister republics on the south, every one of them in the western hemisphere.

"The new board is to be a bipartisan one. I use the 'bipartisan' accurately. Such thing as a non-partisan board is an impossibility in nature. I wish we could fix it so there would be three Democrats and two Republicans on that board at once, but that we cannot have; but on the 4th of March, 1913, we can get three Democrats to our two Republicans and that is the way this board will then stand.

"If the president will appoint five of the best men he can find I think it will be able to collate much information. But I want this understanding, that if he appoints two Democrats, I want them to be Democrats in fact as well as in name."

STONE FOR RECIPROCITY

Missourian Says Senate Will Do Well to Pass Treaty at Once.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Senator Stone (Mo.) announced in the senate his unqualified support of the Canadian reciprocity treaty and his conviction that, whatever the Republicans might do, Democrats should give the agreement their sanction.

The Missouri senator had been engaged in an address in opposition to the ocean mail subsidy bill, declaring that the bill could not pass and saying that the senate should turn its consideration to "measures of more substantial merit." He proceeded.

"If we would do something of real moment we might take up the important reciprocity program concluded by the United States and Canada which the president laid before congress on Thursday last and press it to a conclusion without delay."

The senator maintained that the agreement would prove of tremendous importance, not only to this country, but ultimately to the entire western hemisphere.
